

Group Stewardship Projects

Stewardship means taking care of the land we all share. Community groups are invited to participate in service projects throughout the year as part of our mission to conserve Jug Bay's ecosystem.

Stewardship Days are scheduled in the spring and fall, but groups are also welcome to request their own project day from the following activities:

Have a mud fight in the wetlands while removing trash, or stay clean, your choice!

- Riverside Trash Clean-up (year-round)
- Invasive Plant Removal (year-round)
- Native Plant Garden Maintenance (seasonal)
- Construction Projects (as needed)

Need a Service Learning project? Learn about native plants and animals while protecting their habitat.

Schedule a Team Building Retreat for your co-workers!

Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, come earn credit for conservation!

Participants should dress in work clothes: lightweight long pants and shoes that can get wet or dirty. Bring work gloves, a bag lunch or snack, and a water bottle. Children should be at least 6 years old.

Reservations are required, please call 410-741-9330 and ask for the Volunteer Coordinator or e-mail volunteers@jugbay.org.
